Where to Retire

The Authority on Retirement Relocation

NOVEMBER/DECEMBER ISSUE
AD CLOSE AUGUST 7, 2015
ON SALE OCTOBER 13, 2015

- More than 700,000 U.S. citizens move across state lines in retirement every year.
- These 50-65 year olds spend an average of FIVE years researching where they will move.
- During the research years, they buy Where to Retire magazine, travel AND take Where to Retire with them on the road.
- Where to Retire is the only national magazine dedicated to examining the best cities, towns and regions for retirement around the U.S.
- Where to Retire tells its readers who is moving where and why, covering well-known locales as well as undiscovered havens and provides cost-of-living comparisons, housing costs, state and local taxes, health care, transportation and reviews local issues.
- Where to Retire magazine is the Authority on Retirement Relocation

EDITORIAL CALENDAR
November/December

Profiles: Pocatello, ID; Dade City, FL; Springfield, MO; Winston-Salem, NC

Features: 8 Low-Cost Cities; Your Next Home: Smaller or Larger?

Financial Consultant: How to Sell Home Goods Before a Move

Roads to Retirement: Northern Florida – Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Gainesville

Best Neighborhood: Saddlebrooke Ranch, Oracle, AZ